About OISS

Over 6000 international students and scholars from more than 120 countries call Yale University their home away from home. You come from Albania and Zimbabwe [1] and many places in between and you are making untold contributions to this university. The OISS is here to help and support you throughout your Yale experience and beyond, be it a question about your immigration status [2] or your transition to this new culture and community [3]. We look forward to getting to know you!

[1] Albanian citizens of Algeria, seen as the fourth largest group of international students at Yale, have a rich cultural heritage and are valued members of the Yale community.
[2] Immigrant status refers to the legal status of an individual who is not a citizen of the United States and is governed by federal immigration laws.
[3] Transition to a new culture and community involves adapting to new social norms, lifestyles, and values, which can be both exciting and challenging.
[4] Welcome Home! is a welcoming message to students and scholars, expressing a warm welcome and a sense of belonging.

[5] Connect with OISS page provides a platform for students and scholars to connect with their advisers and get assistance with various concerns.
