American Football 101: Yale vs. Fordham

Saturday, October 5, 2019 - 11:00am to 3:00pm

Have you ever been to an American football game? Well here’s your chance! On Saturday, October 5th, we are co-hosting a program with a New York City non-profit, One To World, to bring together international students from New York City universities for the Yale vs. Fordham football game! We will teach everyone the basics of American football and then cheer on the Bulldogs at the game. There will be fight songs, cheerleaders, and a marching band…what more could you ask for?

We’ll meet at OISS at 11:00am for lunch (pizza) and a presentation about American Football 101, and then we’ll take the shuttle together to the Yale Bowl. The game starts at 1:00pm, and the group will stay until the end of halftime (around 2:30pm). You are welcome to stay for the full game, or you can join our NYC guests as we give them a tour of the Yale campus. More details will be emailed to you closer to the program date.

NOTE: Our ticket price helps to off-set the cost of lunch - alongside a free football game ticket & transportation, courtesy of Yale Athletics. No refunds once the tickets have been purchased.
