BLM In The Asian Community: Creating a Safe Space for Discussing Difficult Topics Intergenerationally

Thursday, October 1, 2020 - 6:00pm to 7:00pm
New Haven, CT

Presented by Yale-China, Yale Child Study Center, and OISS

During this event, we will look at the issue of Black Lives Matter through the lens of multiple generations of Asian-Americans. Dr. Yuen will facilitate a conversation between an Asian young adult and parent on their views of BLM. This event is not intended to provide solutions but a supportive space and methods for more empathetic child-parent communication about difficult topics intergenerationally. Join us for mental wellness information, check in and discussion.

Please register using the Qualtrics survey to receive the Zoom instructions.

Register Here [1]

Source URL: https://oiss.yale.edu/calendar/events/blm-in-the-asian-community-creating-a-safe-space-for-discussing-difficult-topics

Links:
[1] https://yaleconnect.yale.edu/OISS/rsvp?id=798552