Love Letters To Yale

Wednesday, January 27, 2021 (All day) to Monday, February 15, 2021 (All day)
   New Haven , CT

With Valentine’s Day around the corner, we are celebrating the holiday by writing love notes to Yale & New Haven. It has been a difficult year, to say the least, but during this season of love, it’s a great opportunity to reflect and speak out about what you’re missing, what gives you hope, and what you’re thankful for right now.

We invite you to write your own “love letter” and send it to OISS with a chance to get featured on our website, in our newsletter, and on our social media pages. Your love letter can be in the form of a note, a poem, a graphic, a video, or whatever creative imagery you prefer.

You can express your love for the campus, the community, the front-line workers, your professors, your classmates, the staff, or anything in between.

Need an example? Check out the poem above written by OISS staff member, Molly, and find her love poem to New Haven here [1].

The deadline to get these to us is February 15th, and then we will feature your work throughout the rest of the month. Please tag us on Facebook [2] or Instagram [3] or email your submissions to molly.hampton@yale.edu [4].
