Starting the Fall Semester Together: An Open Discussion for Chinese International Students at Yale

Wednesday, September 30, 2020 - 8:00am to 9:30am
New Haven, CT

We invite International Students from China from all schools at Yale to gather together online for a special orientation event, and start off the fall semester with a time of open discussion and mutual encouragement. Guided by the stories of two current students, we will reflect on the hardships, hopes, and shared experiences of being a Yale student from China during the pandemic. Yale Child Study Center Psychiatry Fellow Dr. Eunice Yuen will provide mental health strategies and resources for experiencing change and challenges during this time. Students will also have options before and after the event to connect for ongoing conversations with fellow students from China.

This event is being co-hosted by:
Yale’s Office of International Students and Scholars and Yale-China Association

Featuring:
Dr. Eunice Yuen, Yale Child Study Center Psychiatry Fellow
