Thursday, November 30, 2017 - 5:30pm to 7:00pm
New Haven, CT

For our final session of the fall, join us for a discussion about U.S. local government and a guided tour of New Haven’s City Hall. Not only is City Hall a beautiful piece of architecture on The Green, but the heart and mind of New Haven’s government operations. Al Lucas, the Director of Legislative Services, will guide us through the building as we discuss the legislative process, the types of issues that local government handles, political debates, and voting procedures. We know that U.S. politics are complex, so bring your questions along and get them answered from a government official!

As a reminder, our year-long Understanding America discussion series brings together expert speakers from Yale and the New Haven community to break down key issues happening at Yale, in New Haven, and the U.S. at large. We want to provide you with a comfortable space to engage in lively discussion, offer opinions, and gain insights into some complex features of American society and culture.

Note: Not suitable for children under the age of 15. The series is open to the Yale Community, and we encourage you to come with questions, opinions, and an open mind. Please RSVP in order to attend.
