Workshop for International PhD students: Practicing Your Research Pitch with OCS

Monday, February 18, 2019 - 5:30pm to 6:30pm

Need more practice on your research pitch? Want to get some feedback on it? Join your fellow international students at OISS (421 Temple Street) on Monday, February 18th from 5:30pm-6:30pm to practice talking about your research. It doesn’t matter if you are working on your elevator pitch, or on delivering your 3-Minute Thesis presentation. Come practice and get prepared to talk about what you do in your next conference, interview, or public speaking competition! Pizza and other treats will be provided! This event is organized in conjunction with the Office of Career Strategy. To register for this event, please log into Yale Career Link and click the “Events” tab to find this event and register. If this is your first time using YCL, please use your Yale email address as your username and click the ‘forgot password’ link to reset your account.
