When Should You Check-In at OISS?

Faculty, Researchers and International Scholars

The current health emergency and the subsequent University guidance has caused offices to cancel on-campus meetings. For this reason, OISS is temporarily suspending in person orientation for newly arrived scholars, but we are offering a virtual orientation instead.

Here are your next steps:

Newly arrived J-1 scholars, who have DS-2019s issued by Yale University, must report their U.S. address and phone number [4] and submit a New Scholar Check-in request in their OISS Connect account [5]. If you have any questions, email Nathan Duddles. [6] Please complete these steps as soon as you arrive in the U.S.

As a reminder, scholars on F-1 OPT or OPT STEM Extension must report their employment information and U.S. address to the school they graduated from. Instructions for Yale graduates on OPT are here [7]; instructions for Yale graduates on STEM OPT are here [8].

Sign-up for the OISS Virtual Orientation Session. You will receive instructions on how to do so through an email from OISS Connect approximately 10 days before your arrival in the U.S. You should choose the orientation closest to your arrival in the United States. The new scholar orientation slides can be accessed here [9] to review in advance of your orientation session. We encourage you to read through the information and come to the session with questions. If you have questions please email your OISS adviser [10].

If you are being paid by Yale, you should contact your Yale department administrator about your benefits and employment status, as well as completing the I-9 form [11]. In addition, you will need to apply for a U.S. social security number [12] once the SSA office reopens (currently closed due to COVID-19). Once the SSA offices reopen, OISS will provide you instructions for obtaining an SSN.

Information about COVID-19 and Yale's operational and accommodations can be found here [13]. We look forward to welcoming you in person once the University is past this health emergency.

New Students

While we would typically invite you to our office for your new student orientation, this fall we will be offering virtual sessions within your school's orientation schedule. Please stay tuned for more information on signing up for these sessions and other virtual orientation programming that will happen in August and September.
