Your First Two Weeks

Moving to a new country is exciting—and also confusing! In the first few weeks, there are many new things to learn about and accomplish. We hope this information will help you as you settle in at Yale.

Your First Few Days

J-1 and H-1B Scholars: Attend Your OISS Orientation

J-1 Scholars

You should have already completed your New Scholar Orientation on Homebase [1]. Once completed, you will receive a code you’ll need to enter when completing your ‘New Scholar Check-In’ request in OISS Connect (see next section). As soon as you arrive in New Haven, you are invited to sign up for an in-person New Scholar Meetup to meet other new scholars at Yale. The link to sign up may be found in the ‘Your Next Steps’ section of the Homebase online module.

H-1B Scholars

You will meet with your OISS adviser for a 1-on-1 orientation. Your adviser will be in touch to schedule this with you.

J-1 Scholars: Check In on OISS Connect

If you are on a J-1 visa, as soon as you arrive at Yale submit a ‘New Scholar Check-In’ request [2] in your OISS Connect [3] account. You will need to enter the code you received from completing the New Scholar Orientation on Homebase [1]. The ‘New Scholar Check-In’ request must be completed as soon as possible after your arrival to validate your J-1 SEVIS record so you can proceed with other administrative matters, like completing the I-9 process (if you will be a University employee).

- Read instructions for logging into OISS Connect [3].
- Read instructions for completing the check-in request [2]. Please complete this as soon as you arrive in the U.S.

If you are being paid by Yale and on a J-1 visa you MUST complete the OISS Check-in request [2] and have been notified that your SEVIS record is active BEFORE completing your I-9 form and registering with the International Tax Office (see Complete Your U.S. Tax & FNIS Paperwork below).

Next Steps

Complete Your U.S. Tax & FNIS Paperwork

Upon arriving at Yale, you should be certain you understand your tax obligations and are ready when the filing season arrives. Here is what you can do to get prepared.
The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) requires Yale University to apply specific federal tax withholding and reporting rules consistent with your U.S. tax status, i.e., resident or nonresident tax filers. Resident tax filers are taxed same as U.S. citizens, while nonresident tax filers are taxed under different withholding and reporting rules.

- Non U.S. students and scholars receiving payments from the University (e.g., compensation, stipend, fellowship, etc.) are required to complete the Foreign National Information System (FNIS) application with the International Tax Department.

- Once the FNIS application is completed and submitted to the International Tax Department [11], you will receive notification regarding U.S. tax residency, treaty eligibility and instructions for completing Form W-4 and CT-W4. If you have not received the FNIS application link, please send an email to internationaltax@yale.edu [12].

- If you are eligible for a U.S. social security number (SSN), [13] apply for one now.

Apply For an SSN

If you do not already have an SSN, you should apply for one. You are eligible for the SSN as soon as your OISS check-in process is complete. Learn about what you need an SSN for and more on our informational page [13].

Understand Your Immigration Status

It is important that you maintain lawful J-1 or H-1B status while in the U.S. There are some simple steps you can take to ensure that your stay in the U.S. remains valid, such as reporting any changes in address, enrolling in health insurance, and more.

- Maintaining legal status for J-1 scholars [14]
