

Suman

Vanakam! Meet Suman, an Indian Diplomat studying at the School of Environment! Pursuing a Master of Environmental Management at @environmentyale, Suman wears multiple hats, with a decade-long experience as a senior civil servant in India, Suman brings in her expertise on international relations and contextualizing change to address the implementation gaps as a few of her interest areas.

In her words, “Grassroots needs the brightest grasshoppers. Consider going to your roots for making the lasting change.”

We are proud to feature her this week in our #humansofioiss series!

P.S: Do you remember the first love letter to Yale this year? It was Suman's, and we are happy to reshare her Love letter with the proud mom! #yale #ioiss #humansofioiss
