Before the break, we asked you to submit media resources that have helped you better understand conversations about DEI (diversity, equity & inclusion) issues in the United States. Thank you to everyone that participated - we received many great responses from you, and we want to share a few of them before we make a larger resource list available on our website. This list will contain suggestions for movies, books, podcasts and more, so you will be able to choose from a wide variety of media that can help educate you further on different DEI topics. So stay tuned for that, and in the meantime, check out what a few of your fellow international Yalies came up with:

Watch:

- The 13th (watch it on Netflix [1])
- Patriot Act with Hasan Minhaj (watch it on Netflix [2])
- I am not your Negro (watch it on Netflix [3], or on Kanopy [4] with Yale NetID)

Listen:

- CodeSwitch (listen here [5])
- Revisionist History (listen here [6])
- “We didn’t start the fire” by Billy Joel (listen here [7])

Read:
“Americanah” by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie (online access through Yale library here [8])
“We Were Eight Years in Power” by Ta-Nehisi Coates (online access through Yale library here [9])
“Nomadland” by Jessica Bruder (borrow copy through Yale library here [10])
“A People’s History of the United States” by Howard Zinn (online access through Yale library here [11])
