Important Reminders for Your Travel to and Arrival at Yale

August 9, 2021

The fall semester is just around the corner and that means many of you will soon be traveling to Yale's campus!

We have compiled a list of important reminders regarding your travel, COVID testing requirements, and vaccinations. As always, evolving circumstances may require the U.S. and Yale to make changes quickly so please check Yale’s Health Guidelines page frequently along with the CDC’s FAQs.

- Follow Yale’s testing, quarantine, and vaccination requirements pre-arrival and upon arrival to campus [3]. This email was sent by Yale Health at the beginning of August to all graduate and professional students. Review it carefully.
- Negative COVID Test Results: [2] All air passengers arriving to the U.S. from another country are required to get tested no more than 3 days before you travel by air into the United States and show your negative result to the airline before you board your flight or be prepared to show documentation of recovery (proof of a recent positive viral test and a letter from your healthcare provider or a public health official stating that you were cleared to travel). This rule applies regardless of vaccination status.
- Review the OISS Travel & Arrival pages [4] to ensure you have all of the documents you need for a smooth entry into the U.S.
- Read through the OISS FAQ pages [5] for Fall 2021 students.
- Testing Requirements for Grad Students Living in On-Campus Housing: [6] If you are a graduate or professional student living in on-campus housing make sure to follow the testing requirements recently implemented.

Safe travels, and we can't wait to see you on campus soon!
