

International Programming Fund Is Accepting Applications!

September 23, 2026

Are you part of a Yale-registered student organization that is planning to organize events with an international and/or intercultural focus in the academic year of 2026-2027? OISS is here to support your programming goals with our International Programming Fund (IPF)!

You are invited to apply for the IPF award and obtain up to $500 for your specific event (with a $500 cap per academic year per student organization). Please carefully review the IPF eligibility, terms and disbursement methods [1] before making an application. The application process is straightforward and requires the submission of supplementary documents.

If you wish to discuss your application and other related issues, please send an email to charlie.lee@yale.edu [2]. OISS is excited to contribute to the enrichment of student programs on campus.
