A January 25, 2021 Proclamation by President Biden [1] continued the 14-day U.S. entry restrictions on individuals who were recently present in the Schengen countries, U.K., Ireland, Brazil, China or Iran. The proclamation remains the same, except for the addition of South Africa to this list of countries (effective January 30, 2021.) If you transit through one of these countries, you are also subject to these restrictions and will not be able to continue on to the U.S.

The Department of State has confirmed that the “National Interest Exceptions for Certain Travelers from the Schengen Area, United Kingdom and Ireland” [2] remain in place and will continue.

For a detailed explanation please review the updated NAFSA page [3]; specific questions should be addressed to your OISS adviser.
