Want to be Featured on the OISS Wall?

Have you noticed the physical changes that have happened at OISS over the last year? We've updated our furniture for both our upstairs and downstairs areas, and commissioned Kwadwo Adae, a local artist, to paint a mural (titled “Connection” [1]) behind our front desk.

In our continued effort to make OISS a welcoming and a representative place for you all, we are now creating a wall of photos for the upstairs lobby. We plan to have a number of photos of current international students and scholars displayed on the wall in that area. So, we need your help!

To be able to display a representative collection of our international community at Yale, we would like you to sign up for a short photo shoot at the location of your choosing (in your workplace, classroom, department, campus, etc.). Surbhi Bharadwaj (see her Instagram [2]), one of our talented Yale College students, will meet with you to take some photos. As a bonus, you will be able to keep two of the photos for your own use as well.

Please sign up here by 5 pm on Monday, January 27th [3] if you would like to participate in this project and have your photos taken.
