F-1 and J-1 students are permitted by regulation to work on “on-campus” for up to 20 hours per week (each week) when school is in session and full time (40hrs/week) during holiday and vacation periods. Yale College permits up to 19 hours per week for all students when school is in session. On-campus employment refers to employment for which you receive a Yale paycheck and includes “employment pursuant to the terms of a scholarship, fellowship or assistantship.”

If you are enrolled remotely and currently outside the U.S. you can work on campus, but make sure to work with your hiring manager and the Student Employment Office so that your current location is reflected accurately in Workday as being outside the U.S.

Visit the OISS website for more information about F-1 [1] and J-1 [2] on-campus employment. If you have a question please contact your OISS adviser [3].
