Yale Mourns the Loss of Kevin Jiang

February 11, 2021

In a year filled with so much sorrow, this weekend we were confronted with the tragic killing of Kevin Jiang, a second-year master's student at the Yale School of the Environment (YSE). OISS joins the Yale community in mourning the loss of such an extraordinary young man.

You can read the Yale News article [1] for more details, with statements from President Salovey, Police Chief Ronnell Higgins, and YSE Dean Indy Burke.

We know that this tragedy has shaken the entire New Haven community, but please know that we continue to be here to support you and grieve alongside you. Please contact the OISS team [2] if you have questions or need additional support.

If you need support, please reach out to the resources listed below.

- Yale Mental Health & Counseling
- Chaplain's Office
- Grieving Wall
- Grief Resources
- LiveSafe App

Links:
[2] https://oiss.yale.edu/about/connect-with-oiss
[3] https://yalehealth.yale.edu/directory/departments/mental-health-counseling
[4] https://chaplain.yale.edu/
[5] https://chaplain.yale.edu/submit-remembrance
[6] https://chaplain.yale.edu/grief-resources