

International Programming Fund

Thank you for your interesting in applying for the IPF. The IPF application for the academic year of 2025-2026 is closed. OISS will reopen application for the academic year of 2026-2027 in late August 2026 with updated eligibility and terms.

OISS provides funding through the International Programming Fund (IPF) for Yale student organization events with an international or intercultural focus. Eligible organizations must meet the requirements and agree to the updated terms below.

IPF Eligibility & Terms

- Your organization must be registered with Yale through Yale College, the Office of the Secretary and Vice President for Student Life, the Graduate School's McDougal Center, or the appropriate professional school office
- Only the president, vice-president, or treasurer of an organization, as listed on the official registration, can submit a funding request
- Proposed events must be on campus and open to the Yale community
- IPF can be used for items such as catering, event supplies, or room booking fees, etc.
- IPF cannot be used towards honorariums, airfare and accommodation reimbursements, alcohol, or purchasing capital items. OISS reserves the right to determine requested items' eligibility for IPF coverage
- Funding applications must be submitted at least THREE weeks prior to the event - if you submit a funding application for an event less than three weeks in advance, OISS will not be able to process your request
- Maximum funding amount for any event is $500
- A student organization can apply for a maximum of $500 per academic year. This can either be for one single event or a combination of smaller events

Funds are limited, so please submit your application as early as possible! If your student group or organization has any questions, please send an email to charlie.lee@yale.edu [1].
