International Programming Fund

OISS offers funding to Yale student organizations for events with an international or intercultural focus with International Programming Fund (IPF) funding. Interested student organizations must meet the eligibility requirements and agree to the terms listed below.

IPF Eligibility & Terms

- Your organization must be registered with Yale through Yale College, the Office of the Secretary and Vice President for Student Life, the Graduate School's McDougal Center, or the appropriate professional school office.
- Only the president, vice-president, or treasurer of an organization, as listed on the official registration, can submit a funding request.
- Proposed event must be open to the Yale community
- IPF funds cannot be used towards honorariums, airfare & accommodation reimbursements, alcohol, or purchasing capital items.
- Funding application must be submitted at least two weeks prior to the event
- Maximum funding amount for any event is $500.
- A student organization can apply for a maximum of $500 per academic year. This can either be for one single event or a combination of smaller events.

Funds are limited, so submit your request early! If your student group or organization has any questions, please send an email to molly.hampton@yale.edu [1].
