

Newsletter & Social Media

Yale is a place of great intellectual and creative depth and breadth, with an extraordinary range of activities to participate in and places to visit. There is so much happening on campus and in New Haven that it can be easy to miss news and events of interest.

OISS Newsletter

OISS distributes a weekly e-newsletter every Thursday during the academic year to keep you informed about changes in U.S. immigration and tax regulations, activities and programs at the International Center and elsewhere around campus, and general updates that may be helpful to you during your stay at Yale.

Note: If you have a Yale NetID you'll be asked to login through CAS. If you do not have a Yale NetID, you'll be asked to set up an account using a non-Yale email address.

Yale University Subscription Service

Use your NetID to subscribe to receive updates from a variety of campus organizations and offices, including the Graduate and Professional Student Senate (GPSS), Whitney Humanities Center, Center for British Art, Art Gallery, and more! Those without a NetID may also subscribe.

The Yale Email Subscription Service [27] can help keep you up-to-date about Yale and New Haven happenings by providing a central listing of e-newsletters and other electronic communications produced by university departments, organizations, and affinity groups. You can use the service to sign up for publications and notices of interest to you, ranging from arts and cultural newsletters to athletic events to New Haven news and events.

Many new offerings have been added in the past year, so please visit the service's website [27] to see what's new, and to review and update your current subscriptions. (If you're happy with your current subscriptions, you don't need to take further action.) The service is also open to the public so feel free to share with your friends outside of Yale. As always, you can read about upcoming events in the University Calendar [28] and Yale Arts Calendar [29].
